CALL FOR PAPERS

URBAN FORESTRY CONFERENCE 2012

Forests and Parks:
Communicating Messages for Sustainability

2 - 6 October 2012

Hotel Hilton, Kuching,
Sarawak, Malaysia

BACKGROUND

Sustainability of urban forests and parks is the current desirable trait in park management. Sustainable parks can be described as self-sufficient with regards to resource management as well as providing ecological and socio-economic functions.

Different cities within various regions in the world have different experiences in park management. The conference will provide opportunities for collaborations and information sharing on urban forest and park development and management towards sustainability.

Communication is an important tool for sustainability where messages about nature conservation and human impact can be related. Effective communication will ensure sharing of responsibilities between managers and users.

The conference is organized with the following themes:

1. Ecological functions and sustainable resource management of urban forests and parks.
2. Socio-economic aspects of urban forests and parks.
3. Urban forests and parks to support environmental education.
4. Recreation programming for urban forests and parks.
5. Planning and design for sustainable green space.

OBJECTIVES

1. To share the best ways in communicating sustainability messages through urban forests and parks.
2. To review the progress and status of urban forest and parks development.
3. To exchange information, ideas and to learn about sustainable urban forest and park management.
4. To establish networking among participants from different countries for possible collaboration.

PARTICIPANTS

Decision makers, urban managers, urban planners, landscapes architects, urban foresters, park managers, arborists, landscape and tree care contractors, academicians, NGOs, stakeholders and those interested in urban forests and parks.

PROGRAMME

The programme includes keynote addresses, oral and poster presentations on 3rd and 4th of October 2012. Presentations from various aspects of urban forest and park management will be the highlight of the programme. A workshop will be held at a local urban park.

PRE & POST TOURS

(Participation is optional with additional charge)

2nd October 2012: Sematan and Gunung Gading National Park

At Sematan, we will visit the long house at the Kg Pueh Homestay which is a village of Bidayuh Salako, one of the local ethnic groups of Sarawak. Kg. Pueh is located in the countryside about 120km from the city of Kuching. Visiting Kg. Pueh is a rare opportunity to experience the culture and lifestyles of the mixed ethnicity of Sarawak. This trip includes lunch and a cultural performance by the residents of the village.

Gunung Gading National Park has a very special star attraction, the Rafflesia which the world's largest flower. The park is one of the best places in Asia to view the Rafflesia's spectacular blooms. Gunung Gading sprawls across four jungle-clad mountain peaks with a dense primary rainforest interspersed by crystal clear streams and waterfalls.

5th October 2012: Bako National Park

Gazetted in 1957, Bako National Park is Sarawak's oldest national park, covering an area of 2,727 hectares at the tip of the Muara Tebas peninsula. It is one of the smallest national parks in Sarawak, yet one of the most interesting as it contains almost every type of vegetation found in Borneo including the coastal and heath vegetation. The proboscis monkey is one of the permanent resident here.

6th October 2012: Serikin Market

Serikin market, is a place that you can bargain for the best prices of native handicrafts, dried food stuff, traditional snacks, local fruits, batik clothings and others. It's just over an hour drive from Kuching. On both sides of the road leading to Serikin, you will also notice many houses from Iban and Bidayuh communities with views of the emerald jungle.
