Science fest at KLCC

THE inaugural six-day Petrosains Science Festival 2013, at KLCC, starts tomorrow.

The festival, themed Bringing Science Alive, hopes to engage the public and inspire the younger generation in science but with a broader appreciation and inclusion of culture, arts, and music.

Incorporating the elements of 'Discovery', 'Play', and 'Innovation', there will be fun and educational activities for children, youth and parents alike. These include exhibitions, workshops, science shows, contests and stage performances.

Key partners include TM, Samsung, Google, Boeing, Forest Research Institute Malaysia, and the Malaysian Institute of Nuclear Technology Research.

Visit the festival till Oct 27 at Petrosains the Discovery Centre, as well as Suria KLCC's Centre Court.
