With a little help from all

• (LETTERS) SQUIRMING at FRIM: This forest haven at the edge of the city has turned from a sight for sore eyes to an 'appalling' eyesore (Nov 9)

NURUL, I must commend you for showing appreciation for what little we have left and your willingness to help. If you could get your faculty to write to the ministry responsible for it with an offer to adopt parts of FRIM and work with other universities to do the same. Find out if there are any funds available from the ministry which can support your group on an "environmental awareness programme" which you can then take to neighbouring schools to create awareness. Education is the best way to achieve results in situations like this. I am proud you have chosen to make a difference as long as it is not political and we act on our human values of "We can make a difference". — Lobsang R

I LIKE the last statement, "Do call me if FRIM needs a helping hand to clean up the place". Ouch! I applaud Nurul for her civic consciousness and I believe FRIM does their cleaning process or the place will look like a huge rubbish dump considering the high traffic of visitors. Nurul has pointed out there is still room for improvement in efficiency. She may have some good ideas on refuse management. — Desi
